Agilent Technologies, Inc. is an American global company that provides instruments, software, services, and consumables for laboratories. Headquartered in Santa Clara, California, Agilent was established in 1999 as a spin-off from Hewlett-Packard. The company has received FDA 510(k) clearances from total submissions. Cardiovascular devices represent the dominant focus, accounting for approximately 80% of regulatory submissions. Agilent's FDA 510(k) clearance history spans from 1985 to 2017, establishing a long track record in medical device regulation. Notable cleared dev...
